BOOSTS TEN THOUSAND LAKES ASSOCIATION

Harrison Hatton of St. Paul in the City in the Interests of Organization Newly Formed

Project is to Draw Visitors to Northern Minnesota, Up to Brainerd to Do Her Bit in the Matter

Harrison Hatton of St. Paul arrived in Brainerd today to give further impetus to the Ten Thousand Lakes Association recently organized to boost the state summer resorts. R. R. Wise of Brainerd is one of the directors.

The association is composed of the leading hotel men of the state, business interests, railroads and everybody who is for increasing the prestige of Minnesota as the banner play ground of the United States for vacationists in the summer season.

The plans include an extensive advertising campaign in leading magazines, selected by one of the leading advertising experts in the country, and will include such as the Outlook, Outers' Recreation, World's Work, Literary Digest, All Outdoors, Motor Life, Hearst's, Motor and the Metropolitan.

Widespread Publicity.

Newspaper advertising is to be placed in leading papers in Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Oklahoma, Texas, Tennessee and Kentucky to attract tourists and all who take outlying trips or vacation periods in the cooler and more pleasant recreation centers.

It will mean the attracting to Minnesota of thousands of visitors and the railroads are lending their hearty co-operation. For the northern part of Minnesota the project is of special interest. Here the lakes are more plentiful, the climate cooler and its natural state eliminates the artificial from the outings.

The plan is also for intensive advertising by individual cities and towns that are possessed of advantages such as delight the tourist and the summer visitors, and Brainerd is one of the most prominent.

Is Important Project.

The plan involves much and will involve more next year and the years following as it grows. To get its share, Brainerd must take part in this wonderful program of advancement and already several of the active business men are interesting themselves and making a campaign for co-operation, arguing that if Brainerd is to become what it is capable of as a center of summer tourists and summer residents it must bestir itself, as is being done in other progressive Northern Minnesota cities and towns that have summer advantages for the visitor from southern Minnesota and southern states.

Mr. Hatton will speak at a gathering at the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock this evening to which all citizens are invited.

Red Cross Workers Mobilize For Aid When Germans Strike

(By United Press)

Paris, March 28—Simultaneously with the German attack all Red Cross workers mobilized for emergency aid and motor trucks with food and clothing were rushed to the front. Many women and American drivers met the trains succoring the survivors.

CLOCK CHANGES ALL RAILROADS SUNDAY MORNING

Washington, March 27—Most night trains technically will be one hour late next Sunday morning as a result of the changing of time under the new daylight saving bill. Director General McAdoo today ordered railroads to move their clocks ahead one hour at 2 A. M. Sunday in conformity with the law. Trains will leave destinations Saturday night at the old time.

FIGHT TO FINISH CONCLUDE BATTLE AND ALSO THE WAR

London, March 28—British soldiers and officers do not believe the present comparative lull means that the battle will die where it is but that on the contrary they are of the opinion that it will go on to a finish, probably to the conclusion of the battle and of the war.

This is the most significant news received today.

The British are not merely contented with stopping the German advance but also desire to make it the final round-up of the war.

The fall of Montedied, admitted by the French, is surprising, as the belief was held until this news was received that the fighting in this vicinity had not progressed over four miles.

Gen. Haig reported that machine guns and prisoners had been taken as well as holding the British line, making a remarkable defense and daily increasing the danger to von Hindenburg's left.

French Blocking German Progress Enemy Seeking to Turn French Wing

BY HENRY WOOD.

(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

With the French Afield, March 28—Commanded by two of the most brilliant French generals the French are blocking the progress of the Germans between Noyon and Nesle where the enemy are seeking to force their way down the narrow Oise and turn the French wing. Other enemy forces are seeking to throw the British back toward the North Sea and thus crushing both armies. The French columns are steadily arriving and dropping automatically into battle. The French battery facing Noyon fought for three days and nights without food. They were completely surrounded but the guns cut their way out, saving their guns and bringing out their dead and wounded.

compare time with the train dispatcher.

Clocks in offices not open at two A. M. must, at the first opening at or after the time the change becomes effective, be advanced to conform to the new standard time, and employees before assuming duty in such offices must compare time with the train dispatcher.

2. Train and enginemen of trains that may be on the road must arrange to be on open telegraph stations at two A. M. on that date or previous thereto must have signed a thirty-one train order requiring them to change their watches at two A. M. to indicate three A. M., after which they must at once compare watches with each other and at first open office compare with operator's clock and with train dispatcher.

Trainmen and enginemen going on duty after two A. M., March 31st, must not leave any terminal until they have compared time with the train dispatcher.

3. Yard engines must all be clear of main line at two A. M., March 31st.

Yardmen and yard enginemen will move their watches ahead to comply with the new standard and must compare time as per Book of Rules before again using the main line.

4. During the twenty-four hour period beginning at twelve one A. M., March 31st and ending at twelve one A. M., April 1st, no time orders shall be issued that will be effective between two hours. All trains will meet and pass only upon direct positive orders from the train dispatcher.

Train dispatchers will provide any further safeguards if necessary, to insure absolute safety in the movement of trains.

5. All other employees must move their watches or clocks one hour ahead at the appointed time and must compare their time with some of the employees named who have made such comparison with the train dispatcher.

In changing clocks and watches do so by turning the minute hand ahead 60 minutes.

W. H. GEMMELL,

General Manager.

100,000 AMERICANS ARE AVAILABLE IN THE ANTICIPATED STRIKE BY ALLIES

(By United Press)

It is possible that 100,000 Americans are available in this move.

Germans in High Command Uneasy Fighting Lulled

By William Phillip Simms

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

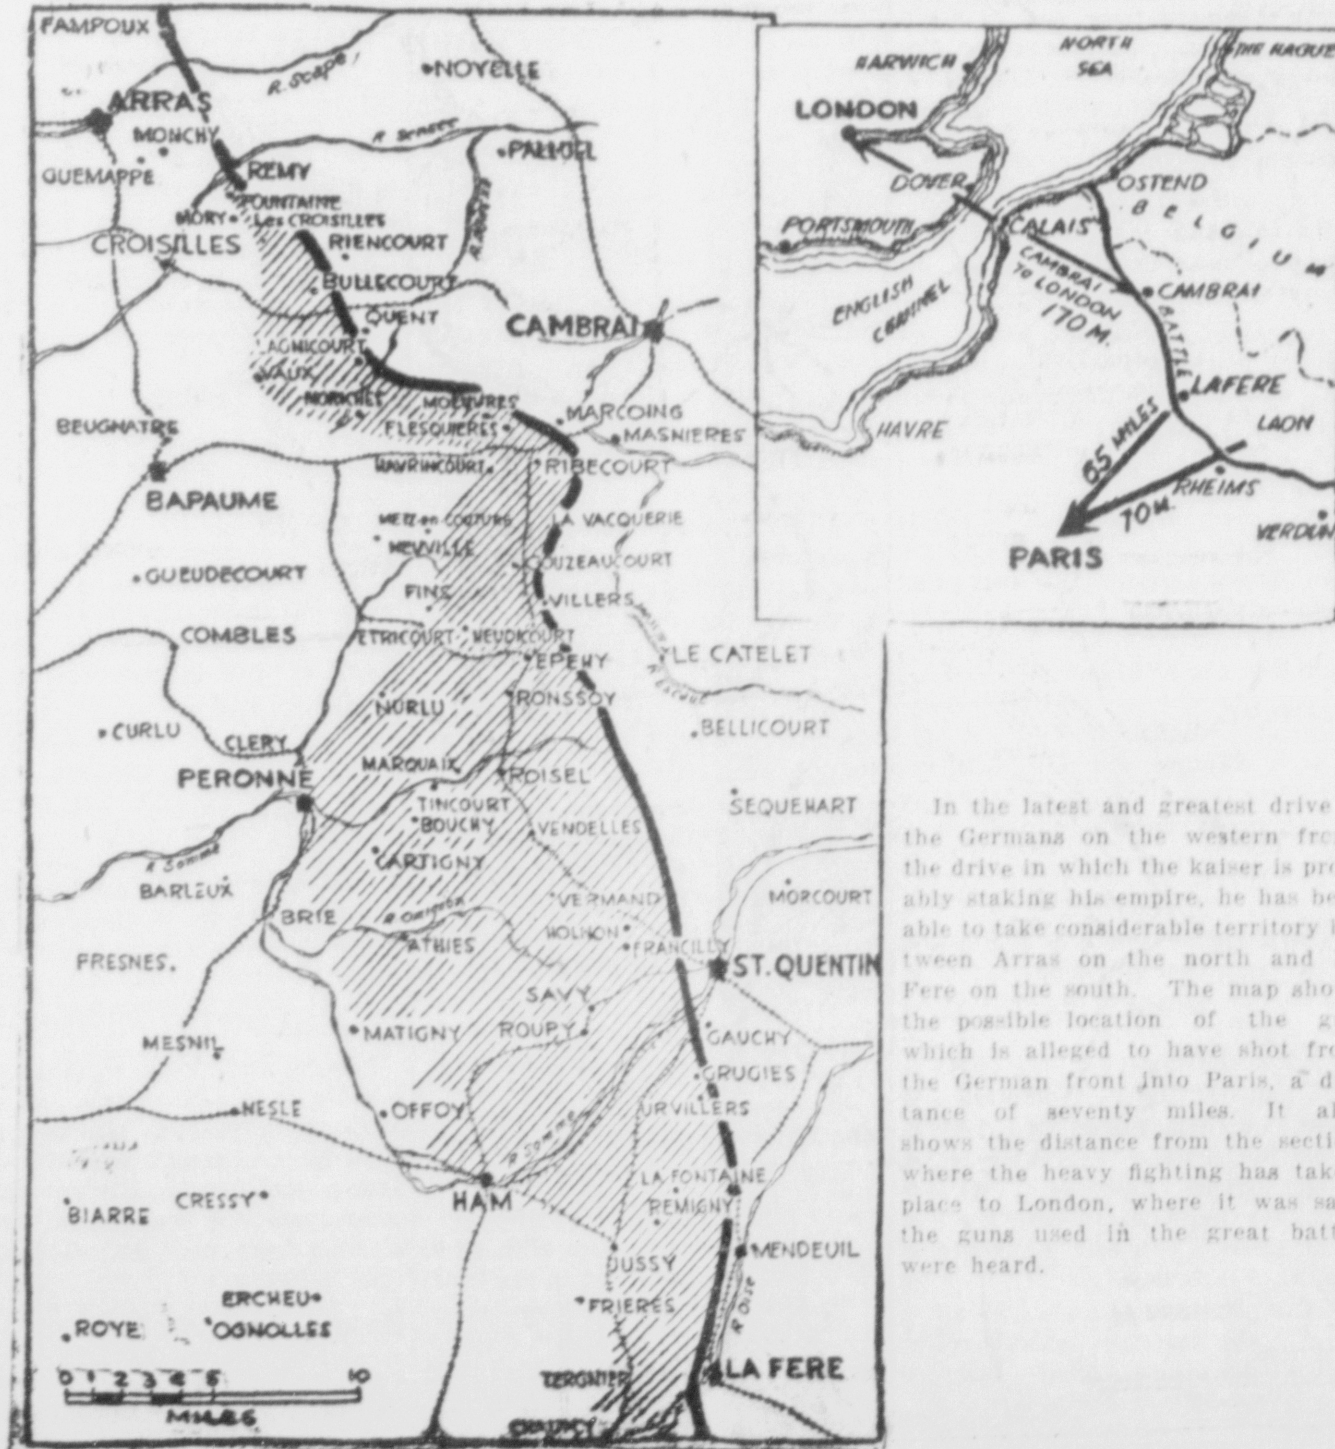

With the British Afield, March 28—In spots the battle blaze is burning low. North of Somme the British line is holding firm, the enemy not making headway. To the southward the fighting is heavier. The German high command is uneasy, lulling the fighting to a par for the opening. Hindenburg is puzzled at the slow progress the forces are making.

Germans Will Not Get Road to Sea Neither to Paris

(By United Press)

Paris, March 28—"No matter what convulsions occur within the next few days, the German plan has failed," Premier Clemenceau is quoted as saying. "The battle is not finished but the Germans will neither get a road to the sea nor to Paris."

Territory Taken by Germans in France in Greatest Drive; Point From Which Shells May Have Been Shot Into Paris

In the latest and greatest drive of the Germans on the western front, the drive in which the kaiser is probably staking his empire, he has been able to take considerable territory between Arras on the north and La Fere on the south. The map shows the possible location of the gun which is alleged to have shot from the German front into Paris, a distance of seventy miles. It also shows the distance from the section where the heavy fighting has taken place to London, where it was said the guns used in the great battle were heard.

Americans Help Stem German Tide

(By United Press)

With the Americans Afield, March 28—Americans soldiers are contributing such help as is in their power to stem the German tide by releasing the French for the big fight. They realize that the principles for which the United States is fighting is hanging in the balance. The conditions at the Toul front are unchanged.

Undue Optimism Must Not be Indulged in Battle Far From Over

BY ED L. KEEN.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, March 28—Undue optimism must not be indulged in regarding the checking of the German rush, for while the first crisis is over the battle is far from over. The next phase depends on whether the Germans can replace the exhausted divisions with fresh ones before the allies are prepared.

Germans Will Put Jail Criminals in Fighting Front

(By United Press)

Amsterdam, March 28—Von Hindenburg and Hertling have decided to call for military service German criminals in the jails of military age.

Slowly the reports from the rural schools are coming in. Some teachers have not yet realized that they can serve the country as well as the boys who do the fighting by encouraging thrift and stamp buying, said Chairman H. F. Michael.

Just about half of the schools have been heard from and schools are beginning to dismise for the summer. Teachers should organize at once, get the scholars pledged to saving and let them save during the summer.

As indicated by the table below eight teachers have sent in reports without signing their names or giving the number of their district. Send in full information that due credit may be given.

Loyal citizens in the school districts should assist the teachers in getting these war clubs or war saving societies organized in their district. The government is already investigating some districts where they have failed to report satisfactorily. The government is insisting that this patriotic service be rendered by those who can give it.

It is hoped that not a district in the county will let another week go by without having a creditable record as to number of children joining War Saving societies. The greater the (Continued on page 4)

BOLOGNA TRAIL
Reporter Watches James Brotherson of Model Meat Market, 323
South Sixth Street
CHOP, SMOKE, BOIL BOLOGNA
New Smoke House Utilizing Gas
Flame Installed by Theo. H.
Schaefer Gives Satisfaction

The other day the reporter ambled past Theodore H. Schaefer's Model Meat Market at 323 South Sixth St., and the soft odor of sausage met his olfactory nerves. He quickly ran down the lead, through the backyard and on to the sausage factory, and found the succulent bologna right at home.

In a brick section with cement floor
he saw James Brotherson, the sausage maker, presiding at the machinery.
Beef and pork were being chopped up in the chopper run by electric motor and after being seasoned just right, for seasoning cuts a big figure in preparing all delicacies, the sausage material was squeezed into casings and then hung in the smoke house.

The latter is something new in Brainerd. A steel compartment 6 by 8 feet in size and 12 feet high with a stack houses the sausage, etc., being subjected to smoke treatment.
At the base is a gas section of resistant perforated tubes and from these blaze the flames which smothered in saw dust produce the billowy smoke that gives the sausages just the right color, taste, etc.

At various times Brotherson opened the door, added more sawdust or stirred it around and thus kept the smoke at the proper consistency. At length they were smoked and he took out stick after stick weighted with sausage, examined each carefully and then dipped the lot into a big tank of boiling water. The water was tested with thermometer to see that the right temperature had been attained. There the bologna rested a while and cooked. Then they were whisked out and dipped into a big barrel of clear, cold water.

With the bologna steaming hot,
Brotherson whetted his butcher knife,
carved a section and said:
"Have a taste?"

No man could resist and a half length of bologna disappeared before the critical taste of the writer was satisfied and he at length said:
"There's the finest bologna I ever ate."

After the demonstration in pure food making which revealed also the remarkable cleanliness and sanitary surroundings which housed sausage making at the shop, Brotherson explained the smoke house capacity was 100 pounds of sausage. Every week he made hundreds of pounds of bologna, wieners, liver sausage, Braunschweiger, head cheese, Swedish sausage, minced ham, New England ham, little pig sausage, link sausage, etc., and smoked lots of Crown Wing country hams and bacon.

A new industry is the making of lard substitute and a ready sale is found for that product.

WOMAN'S REALM

CAST OF SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

"The Man on the Box" to be Presented Friday Evening, April 5, at Opera House

THE PLOT IS INTERESTING

Original and Clever Lines, Concerns Adventures of an Army Officer and His Mishaps

On April 5 the seniors of the Brainerd high school will present their class play, "The Man on the Box," an exceedingly popular play, originally produced by Max Figman and since then by numerous stock companies throughout the country. The plot is interesting and original and the lines very clever.

The play concerns itself with the astonishing adventures of a former lieutenant of the U. S. army. He resigns his command in the west to recover from a wound, goes to Europe and falls madly in love with a young lady on the steamer, but is unable to secure an introduction. When he gets home, he barely meets his family before he gets arrested, is given forty days in jail, and then, after a long month's service in which he decides that an army man, even when he has to serve at kitchen police or anything else that his superiors may demand of him, has an easy time of it, at last finds an opportunity to serve his country in a greater capacity than ever when he was in the army. He at last gets out of these troubled waters and finds peace.

Following is the cast:

Lieutenant Robert Worburton, lately resigned—Walter Cleary.

Charles Henderson, his chum—Dan Clark.

Col. George Annesley, a retired army officer—Albert Backen.

U. S. ARTILLERY IS ACTIVE

Staves Off German Attack In Toul Vicinity

With the American Army in France, March 28.—What promised to be a German attack on the American lines northwest of Toul was broken up by American artillery fire.

The enemy had heavily bombarded certain positions of the American lines and then had sent a sweeping barrage across No Man's Land. Enemy trench mortars, firing from the west of Richcourt, started a box barrage and from enemy machine guns came a rain of bullets.

The American infantry emerged from their underground huts at the proper moment and advanced to meet the expected assault. Meanwhile the American artillery had started a counter barrage against the German side of No Man's Land and apparently this was effective, for although the Americans waited, no Germans appeared. What happened on the other side of the line is not known.

Enemy artillery fire has been heavy and some shots were well placed. The American gunners gave the enemy batteries a severe drenching with gas shells.

U. S. Flier Killed in Air Raid.

Newton, Mass., March 28.—Lieut. T. Newton, Mass., March 29.—Lieut. T. Cushman Nathan of this city was killed on March 23 while taking part in an air raid in France, according to word received by his father, Frank N. Nathan of Boston.

Calls Drive Sign of Despair.

San Francisco, March 28.—"Powerful and effective as the present German offensive is, it is to my mind rather the outcome of despair than of hope," T. P. O'Connor, Irish nationalist leader, told the San Francisco Commercial club. "The offensive will be stopped at the proper place and proper time," he continued. "This great gamble of the kaiser will end in disaster. It was inspired to avert the overwhelming forces, which will come from the arrival of the American armies."

U. S. Restoration Work Destroyed.

With French Armies in the Field, March 28.—Many towns and villages in which Smith college girls, Anne Morgan, Elsie De Wolfe and numerous other American charity workers spent hundreds of thousands of dollars, succoring the populations and restoring the devastation, are again the center of a battle field and renewed devastation. All restoration accomplished in these places has been re-destroyed. There is every reason to believe the workers have had ample time to evacuate.

KEEP OLD CUSTOM

People of Brittany Combine Ancient Legends With Easter Ceremonies.

Of all annual festivals among Christian nations, Easter seems to have made the most serious impression, and the customs connected with its first celebrations to have lingered the longest. Europe, with its many nations, and, therefore, many peoples, has ever been the scene of various ceremonies distinctly belonging to the separate countries, with the Latin church always in the lead in the matter of picturesque symbols and processions.

The war last year and this will make a difference in some districts, but wherever there are a few gathered together in his name in the neighborhood of mighty cathedrals still standing, or tiny kirks in the heart of the woods or along the sea, there will find some feature of the story of the Atonement be told in symbols.

In Brittany, a southern province of France, which nestles close to the Pyrenees, and in consequence perhaps takes on something of the colorful atmosphere of its neighbors, the Spanish provinces, many interesting customs are observed. It is a land of legends.

On Easter morning at the Church of St. Cronley, in the village of Finistere, Brittany, every man, woman and child of the vicinity is in attendance. The women and children are in their best frocks and snowiest caps, and the men are leading the cattle to the door of this church, which would do credit to a city of size.

There the priest receives the men and animals, and while the women cluster around, gravely listening, the cattle are blessed and the care of St. Cronley invoked in their behalf. This saint is a great favorite all over Brittany; and, like so many traditions of the Bretons, his story is connected with many legends.

He was hunted by wild men until death seemed near, when suddenly every pursuer was turned into a stone, and so they stand today, one group forming a regular border along the road from Carnac to Kerlesant.

WATCH FOR DAWN OF EASTER

Thousands Gather on Mountain of Southern California to Take Part in Religious Ceremony.

In one of the loveliest spots in southern California, rising above the green orange and lemon groves of the valley, stands a bare and rugged mountain peak. Crowning its highest point is a great wooden cross. Nearly on huge boulders are swung two iron bells, and set in another high boulder is a bronze tablet recording that this mountain top is dedicated to Fra Junipero Serra, a sturdy old Spanish priest who, many years before California came into the Union, many years before the revolution which created the Union, strode back and forth across the desert Christianizing and civilizing the Indians.

But nowhere does his actual spirit seem to dwell as on this lonely mountain. For every year, at the dawn of Easter, people of the valley and of the entire state climb the mountain and take part in a religious ceremony which cannot be duplicated in the world.

All night before the event the roads are filled with pilgrims—in motorcars, in carriages and wagons and on foot.

Greeting Dawn of Easter.

Through the dark they travel in silence for the most part, for the hour is solemn. Before the dawn there are as many as 30,000 people on that mountain top gazing into the pale eastern sky. Suddenly the pale sky is pierced by a pencil of golden light. Then another, and then the morning sun. A cornet solo hails it first, followed by the music and the chanting of the Mass. Would that it were given to every soul of us once a year to climb a mountain top with a great multitude and lift up our hearts to the pure dawn.—Rhetto Childs Dorr.

ON GUARD

At this time of the year people feel weak, tired, listless, their blood is thin, they have lived indoors and perhaps expended all their mental and bodily energy and they want to know how to renew their energy and stamina, overcome headaches and backaches, have clear eyes, a smooth, ruddy skin, and feel the exhilaration of real good health tingling thru their body. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against ill of all kinds. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. It is to be noticed in the pale or pimply face, the tired, haggard appearance or the listless manner.

Drink hot water a half hour before meals, and for a vegetable tonic there's nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the old-fashioned herbal remedy, which has had such a fine reputation for fifty years. It contains no alcohol or narcotics. It is made from Golden Seal root, Blood-root, Oregon grape root, Queen's root, Black Cherry bark, extracted with glycerine and made into tablets and liquid. Tablets sixty cents, at most drug stores.

In order to insure pure blood and to build up the system try this tonic known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Get it now!

GERMANS LOSE ODESSA

Driven From City by Bolsheviks and Ukrainians.

Naval Forces Take Part in Bloody Battle, According to Moscow Dispatch.

London, March 28.—According to a Moscow dispatch from the semi-official news agency Odesa has been recaptured by the Soviet and Ukrainian troops after a bloody battle in which naval forces took part. An official announcement says that Bolshevik troops have been successful in fighting the Austrians in southern Ukraine, the cities of Nikolayev, Kherson and Znamanka having been recaptured by the Russians. This was stated in a dispatch from Moscow.

Kornilov Surrounded. The forces of General Kornilov have been surrounded by Bolshevik troops, according to a Ruter dispatch from Petrograd.

General Kornilov, the former commander in chief, allied himself with the Don Cossacks against the Bolsheviks and has been operating between Moscow and Rostov. Several times he has been reported defeated and near capture, but always managed to elude the government troops.

FOE CORPSES STREW FIELDS

Enemy Continues to Pay Dearly for Every Inch Gained.

With the British Armies in the Field, March 28 (By United Press).—As the battle develops, the Anglo-French view coming events calmly and courageously. The British are holding the gates to Albert determinedly against the Hindenburg masses as this is cabled.

Along Pozieres ridge, astride the Somme, across the obliterated villages of Ovillers, Warlencourt, Lesars, Fiers, Longueval, Montauban, Mametz and Courcellette, the Germans are strewing their corpses as they slowly press forward.

The battle undoubtedly has not yet reached its crucial stage.

The argument for fire insurance is familiar—fire is but a chance, yet we carefully and wisely insure against it. Decay, which is merely a slow fire, is inevitable without paint. Fire insurance does not prevent fire, but paint does prevent decay—why neglect this real insurance.

KAISER'S ARMY LOSES 400,000; DRIVE IS HALTED

Supreme Effort to Break British Front in West No Nearer Accomplishment.

ALLIED LINE UNBROKEN

Ready to Resist Heaviest Stroke—Forewarning Aids Defenders—Exhaustion Forces Enemy to Halt—Allies' Reserves Not Used.

London, March 28.—The supreme effort of Germany to break the Allied front in the west apparently is no nearer accomplishment than on the day that the drive started, and she is also estimated to have lost more than 400,000 men during less than a week's fighting. She has not given up the attempt, however. Advances from the front indicate her forces are massed for a drive in the region of Roye and Noyon in an effort to break through there as a preliminary to a rolling up process, either to the north or to the south.

Forewarning Aids Allies.

Against the chances of her accomplishing this purpose may be counted the factor of forewarning for the Allies. There seems no doubt as to where the heaviest stroke is to fall and the opportunity is offered of disposing the vast Allied reserve forces to meet it—an opportunity lacking in the earlier stages of the drive.

Allied Front Unbroken.

The Entente line as it now runs with British, French and Americans standing together, presents an unbroken front throughout the battle area. There has been a slowing down in the German pressure north of the Somme except possibly in the vicinity of Albert, where the British are holding doggedly.

In the Noyon region and along the line of the Oise to the east the French by their valiant defense, have likewise compelled the Germans, weakened by their ceaseless efforts and heavy losses, to relax their pressure.

"Nobody Can Foresee Results."

Meanwhile, it is clear that the Germans themselves are being compelled to admit that their success in driving back the Entente lines for such great distances on so wide a front is by no means a decisive one.

"Nobody can foresee what will result from it," General von Ludendorff declared in an interview in alluding to the victory he claims.

Slowly Grinds to Pause.

Von Hindenburg's monster war machine is slowly grinding to a pause under the battering of the Allied forces and the exhaustion of its day and night pace, both British and French communications indicate.

As yet no appreciable weight of reserves has been thrown by the Allied commanders in the path of the enemy advance. The diminution of German driving force, therefore, is due to enormous casualties and fatigue.

"Enfeebled by Losses."

The French communicate specifically states that the enemy, "enfeebled by considerable losses," was checked everywhere.

At the same time the expected Allied counter-offensive is hinted at, both from German and French sources.

The Berlin Vorwaerts declares the Allies "hold strong reserves south of the penetrated front, with which to attack our troops from the flank."

French Army "Awaiting Results."

M. Abrauni, the French sub-secretary of war, in the first official intimation of the French plans, says that only a few French divisions are engaged, and announced that the bulk of the French army is "awaiting events."

The most powerful of the British reserves, he says, are "just arriving in the field."

GERMAN HOSPITALS FILLED

Endless Trains of Ambulances Carrying Wounded.

Amsterdam, March 28.—Enormously long ambulance trains are passing through Liege and Namur, Belgium, on their way to Aix la Chapelle and other parts of Germany with wounded men from the French battle front according to the Telegraaf frontier correspondent.

Commenting on this fact the Telegraaf says that while the German communications speak of the slight German losses it is significant that even in the most out-of-the-way places in Germany wounded are arriving.

J-BOAT DAMAGED BY U. S. SHIP

Sent Beneath the Waves "Damaged and in Distress."

Washington, March 28.—After an hour's battle with a German U boat on the morning of March 1st, the American oil tanker Paulsboro, sent the enemy vessel beneath the waves "damaged and in distress," the navy department reports. It was the tanker's second struggle with a submarine in six days.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, then Back hurts and Bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

CIVIL WAR NOW ON IN FINLAND

Between Pro-German Bourgeoisie and the Industrial Workers, Stated in Resolutions

FINNISH AMERICANS APPEAL

Ask for the Recognition of Independence in Finland, Meeting Held in City Sunday

A mass meeting of one hundred Finnish Americans was held at the socialist hall in Southeast Brainerd Sunday and adopted resolutions calling upon the United States government to officially recognize the independence of Finland and to recognize the workers' government as the official government.

In explanation of this action, Charles Tuura chairman and William Nurmio secretary, have issued the following statement of the reasons why civil war is now raging in Finland and why Germany invaded Finland:

Recently the news dispatches in the daily papers have related how a civil war is raging in Finland. The news dispatches have not stated why a civil war is raging there. The same dispatches have also related how the so-called red guards had practiced horrible cruelties.

It is true that an open struggle is going on in Finland between pro-German bourgeoisie and the industrial workers and small farmers who defend democracy, but it is absolutely untrue that the red guard, organized by the labor government, is practicing cruelties. These news dispatches are sent from Stockholm, Sweden, and they are all purposely made up; they are all infamous falsehoods. As Sweden has always had a yearning for the Aland Island and for a portion of Finland, reports were sent out to the world that anarchy was reigning in Finland so that Sweden could get a pretext for seizing the Aland Islands.

The Finnish bourgeoisie have always been pro-German. When the present war broke out, they sent a large number of the members of their class into the German army to fight against Russia, although Finland formed a part of Russia. They went to fight for German junkerism, militarism and imperialism, and against democracy. These Finns were carefully trained in the German army so that they would be able to fight against the democratic elements of Finland for German junkerism.

Then came the revolution in Russia; the government of the czar was overthrown; the Finnish people, who have always hoped for the independence of their country, saw that the time had come when they could realize their fondest desire, a desire to be allowed to sway their own destinies. They took courage to demand independence and more so for the reason that the allies and President Wilson had assured the world that the allies were fighting for democracy and for the rights of the small nations. But the Finnish bourgeoisie even went so far as to oppose this by scheming with Germany and Sweden against the independence of Finland. But due to the resolute action of the people they did not succeed in this.

The working class of Finland and the larger portion of the farmers, the small farmers, demanded that power shall be centralized in the Diet, the representative body elected by the people. The bourgeoisie demanded that power shall be vested outside the Diet, to a council of three not selected by the people. Their final intention was to form a kingdom of Finland and to set up some German prince as king. (The latest news dispatches report that the Finnish Bourgeoisie desire the German kaiser's fifth son, Oscar, to be king of Finland.) In this attempt, they did not succeed, however, for the people vigorously demanded a democratic form of government.

When the reactionary and pro-German bourgeoisie saw that the will of the people could not be opposed, unless especially radical methods be employed, they commenced openly to organize the so-called "white guards" (which in Finland are called "butcher guards.") At the same time they commenced to offer the Aland Islands to Germany and to Sweden and mastery in Finland in exchange for aid in crushing down the democratic elements. The Finlanders in the German army were called home, and ammunition, regiments of soldiers, etc., were sent from Germany into Finland.

The proletariat of Finland have long suffered terrible hunger which is entirely unknown to the people of this country. The land does not produce enough grain to feed its people, and on account of the war grain could not be imported from elsewhere. Regardless of this the bourgeoisie transported grain to Sweden and through there to Germany. The desire was to starve the democratic elements to death.

All these facts led to the democratic elements being compelled to rise against the bourgeoisie in a resolute manner. There was no other possibility. The suffering and patience of the people have their limits. Here is why a war is raging in Finland.

The very latest dispatches state that German troops have invaded Finland at the behest of the Finnish bourgeoisie and that the country has been made a vassal state of Germany. The Finnish bourgeoisie have sold their country to German junkers.

When Germany invaded Belgium, the whole world justly condemned this. By invading Finland Germany committed a still greater, a more serious crime, for the invasion of Finland cannot be defended even by pretense that it was military necessity, by which subterfuge Germany has apologized its invasion of Belgium. And it is not mitigated by the fact that the invasion of Finland was made on the demand of the Finnish bourgeoisie.

The democratic element in Finland have always hated German junkerism realizing that it was dangerous to democracy. But now the indignation of these elements have risen to the highest point on account of recent events. Their indignation has grown extremely toward the bourgeoisie, who shamefully sold their country to democracy.

The people of Finland are progressive and democratic. This is shown by the fact that Finland has full suffrage for women, a Diet composed of only one chamber, a proportional method of election, etc. These rights the people fought for themselves in 1906 notwithstanding the opposition of their country's bourgeoisie.

We know well the situation in Finland, and as false and incomplete reports of it have been given in news dispatches, we feel that our duty toward the people of this country, toward humanity and democracy, commands us to tell the plain truth. We dare to hope that when the people of this country get the true facts of the situation, their sympathies will be on the side of the democratic elements of Finland who are fighting heroically and tenaciously against domestic reaction and German junkerism. We are assured that the people can impress upon the government of this country the necessity of recognizing the government of the Finnish workers, for it is the best service that can be rendered to democracy and is a blow to German junkerism.

In addition we cannot refrain from sincerely regretting the fact, that there are in this country a few Finlanders, a few Finnish newspapers, that pretend to be loyal to the cause of democracy, but fight furiously for the pro-German Finnish Bourgeoisie and for German junkerism.

ALLIED RESERVE TO STRIKE SOON

Counter Attack By Haig's Army Wins Back Ground Previously Taken By Germans.

FOE LOSSES ENORMOUS

Enemy About To Meet Shock of Powerful French Army, Fresh For Fray, Says Cabinet Official.

London, March 28.—Not only offering strong resistance heavy enemy at lacks both north and south of the river tacks both nor and south of the river Somme, the British forces have carried out numerous counter-attacks, resulting in the gaining of ground and the diving back of the Germans at various points.

The report from Field Marshal Haig declares that in these operations heavy casualties have been inflicted on the enemy.

"Our troops have again fought magnificently and have today thrown back the enemy all along the British front with heavy loss in spite of most bitter and determined attacks and his superiority in numbers. Heavy fighting still continues on the whole battlefield," General Haig says in concluding his statement.

Earlier the war office announced that the British had counter-attacked between the angle of the Ancre and the Somme and had recaptured Morlancourt and Cheplilly. At the same time the British attacked and advanced their line to Proyart.

Big Reserve Army Ready.

Paris, March 29.—Premier Clemenceau told the army committee of the chamber of deputies that the moment was near when the reserves of the Allies would enter into action. The great battle now being waged in France would then take on a new phase, and he added, there was every reason to hope that the enemy would not retain the benefit of the gains at such a bloody price.

Shock of French Army Near.

At about the same time Leon Abami, a member of the cabinet speaking for the government, made the following announcement in the chamber of deputies:

"The Germans are about to meet the shock of a powerful French army, perfectly fresh, animated by a spirit of sacrifice and protected by a curtain of artillery fire such as is difficult to conceive of."

"This army," he added, "has been taken to the scene of action by rail-road and every other route. Hitherto a few independent divisions have checked the enemy's progress.

"Furthermore, formidable British reserves of maneuver are arriving on the battlefield, so that the enemy's gains of ground can be but ephemeral."

PREPARES TO SEIZE WHEAT

Government To Take Measures to Prevent Hoarding.

Washington, March 28.—Information that the bread ration of the French soldiers who are facing onslaught of Germany's armies has been cut because of the shortage of wheat has led the Food administration to plan drastic measures to cure hoarding in this country.

Wherever there is evidence to support a suspicion that the withholding of food on which may depend the outcome of the war is due to disloyalty or profiteering, it was said last night, prompt action will be taken. State administrators have been reminded that the food law authorizes the requisitioning of grain in the national emergency and have been asked to be diligent in their investigation of cases of alleged hoarding.

CIGARETTE CAUSES BIG BLAZE

New York, March 28.—Jacob C. Altman, 53 years old, has confessed to New York police that a lighted cigarette which he carelessly threw on the floor at the Jarvis storage warehouse, Jersey City, was responsible for the blaze and explosion which caused $2,000,000 damage to the warehouse and surrounding property. Altman, according to Captain Fuller of the intelligence bureau, is a welder at the warehouse.

German Papers See Allied Drive.

Washington, March 28.—Official French dispatches received here say the newspapers in Germany are preparing the people for a Franco-British offensive, forecasting the entry of a powerful army of reserves.

Third Son in Family Enlists.

Winona, Minn., March 28.—When Stance Kustelski, 21 years old, read of continued advances by the German army in France, he came to Winona from his farm in Hillsdale township and enlisted in the field artillery. He is the third boy in the family to enlist. "A young man's duty is plain," said the recruit. "There is no greater call for him than in the service." The oldest brother, John, enlisted last May in the navy and a second boy, Vincent, is in the cavalry, training at Fort Douglas, Ariz.

LIEUT. PAT O'BRIEN

Airman to tell Minnesotans of thrilling war experiences.

"Smiling Pat" O'Brien will speak in Minneapolis, March 30. The lecture directed by the Canadian Woman's club, will be a war relief benefit. "After my experience I will never again condemn any story as improbable for a writer of fiction or motion picture company had its principal character shot in the mouth by a machine gun, then crash to earth from a height of 8,000 feet and later jump through the window of a speeding train and live through it all, they would laughed at as picturing the impossible," said Lieut. O'Brien in a recent interview. "But I now fully appreciate that truth is stranger than fiction" for I went through those seeming impossibilities and I am alive to tell the story."

CALLS FOR U. S. TROOPS

Lloyd George Urges More American Soldiers Be Sent.

Says Crisis of War Is Here and Allies Are Buoyed By Hope of Help From This Side.

New York, March 28.—Lord Reading, British high commissioner to the United States, at a dinner given in his honor here, read a message from David Lloyd George, prime minister of Great Britain, calling upon the United States to send "American reinforcements across the Atlantic in the shortest possible space of time."

"We are at the crisis of the war, attacked by an immense superiority of German troops," said the premier in his message. "Our army has been forced to retire. The retirement has been carried out methodically before the pressure of a steady succession of fresh German reserves which are suffering enormous losses.

"The situation is being faced with splendid courage and resolution. The dogged pluck of our troops has for the moment checked the ceaseless crush of the enemy, and the French have now joined in the struggle. But this battle, the greatest and most momentous in the history of the world, is only just the beginning. Throughout it the French and British are buoyed with the knowledge that the great republic of the West will neglect no effort which can hasten its troops and its ships to Europe.

"In war, time is vital. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of getting American reinforcements across the Atlantic in the shortest possible space of time."

U. S. TANKER SINKS U-BOAT

American Vessel Has Two Encounters In Six Days.

Washington, March 28.—After an hour's battle with a German U-boat on the morning of March 1 the American oil tanker Paulsboro sent the enemy vessel beneath the waves "damaged and in distress," the Navy department has reported.

It was the tanker's second struggle with a submarine in six days. In the first encounter a torpedo missed the boat by 25 yards. Four shots at the submarine sent it diving away.

Three Italian Steamers Sunk.

Rome, March 28.—Losses of Italian shipping through submarine attack during the week ended March 23 were three steamers of more than 1,500 tons, two sailing vessels of less than that tonnage, it officially announced. One steamer was unsuccessfully attacked.

Kansas City Has Big Strike.

Kansas City, March 28.—Kansas City is in the midst of a general strike, the exact extent of which is unknown. The strike began at 8 o'clock and best reports indicated that so far only several hundred union men, including brewers, bartenders, barbers and members of certain building trades unions had quit. Men from other crafts were walking out right along, however, it was said. No disorder had been reported. The strike was called to support the walk-out of laundry workers and drivers.

Swift & Company's 1918 Year Book shows that Swift & Company sells the meat from a steer for less money than the live steer cost!

Proceeds from the sale of the hide, fat, and other by-products covered all expense of dressing, refrigeration, freight, selling expense and the profit of $1.29 per steer as shown by Swift & Company's 1917 figures as follows:

Average price paid for live cattle per steer	$84.45
Average price received for meat	68.97
Average price received for by-products	24.09
Total received	93.06
This leaves for expenses and profit	8.61
Of which the profit per steer was	1.29

POLITICS SPLITS SENATE PARTIES

Widest Partisan Break Since War Began Develops in Acrimonious Debate.

CLASH MAY BE RENEWED

Friction Starts When Accusation Is Made That Politics Is Being Played to Help Lenroot Candidacy.

Washington, March 28.—A bitter debate which followed a speech by Senator Jones, republican, of Washington, attacking the Shipping board and criticizing President Wilson's attitude toward congress, resulted in the development of the biggest partisan breach between republicans and democrats of the senate since the war began.

Senator Williams, Democrat, of Mississippi, accused the Republicans of playing politics in behalf of Representative Lenroot, candidate for the Senate in Wisconsin. This aroused the Republicans, and leaders on both sides of the chamber joined in the fray, Senator Smoot, Republican, of Utah, delivering an address he had prepared, charging the President himself with using his high office to further partisan ends.

Adjournment Ends Clash.

Adjournment brought the clash to a close. It may be renewed and is regarded as certain to begin again when consideration of the Overman bill, to enlarge the President's powers to reorganize government departments, is undertaken.

In his speech Senator Jones declared statements of Chairman Hurley of the Shipping board were misleading and that German submarines are sinking ships twice as fast as they can be built.

After Senator Shafroth, Democrat, of Colorado, had deplored what he termed "unfair" criticism of war operations and said all government officials were doing their best, Senator Williams took the floor.

"Poisonous Gas," Says Williams.

"While in Wisconsin an election impends between loyalists and disloylists, this poisonous gas attack in the Senate was made," said the Mississippi senator, "not only on the Republican side, but followed up on the Democratic side, and just about the time we are going to determine whether a man of luke-warm support of America and the Allies or a man always patriotic is to be elected to the Senate."

Senator McCumber of North Dakota asked if Senator Williams was not unfair regarding his reference to Representative Lenroot as being "luke-warm," stating he understood both Mr. Lenroot and Mr. Davies, the Democratic candidate, stand upon loyalty platforms of Americanism and that both are patriotic.

Senator Williams deplored partisanship in the war and said:

"The Republican party as a whole has been patriotic and true to the country."

Britain To Shorten Training Period.

London, March 28.—Discussing means of replacing the losses of manpower in France, the Daily Mail suggests it probably will be found necessary to shorten the period of training for recruits and to send to the front the younger classes at an earlier age than heretofore. All physically able Russian subjects in England, this newspaper says, are being called to the colors, the authorities having canceled the recent order which temporarily suspended the summoning of these men into service.
